Table of Contents

CHAPTER 1. WHAT IS FAIR COMPENSATION?

| § 1:1 | Introduction |
| § 1:2 | Compensation progression |
| § 1:3 | Value in the external market |
| § 1:4 | Assessing the Long-Term Value of a Partner’s Contributions |
| § 1:5 | Balancing practice strengths over time |
| § 1:6 | Strength of geographic markets |
| § 1:7 | Newly elected partners |
| § 1:8 | Experienced partners |
| § 1:9 | Management and practice leaders |
| § 1:10 | Creating incentives; rewarding contributions |
| § 1:11 | Range of compensation |
| § 1:12 | Satisfying partner financial needs |
| § 1:13 | Conclusion |

CHAPTER 2. TYPES OF COMPENSATION SYSTEMS

| § 2:1 | Introduction |
| § 2:2 | Proprietary |
| § 2:3 | Compensation Committee |
| § 2:4 | Feedback |
| § 2:5 | Assessing performance |
| § 2:6 | Areas of partner contributions |
| § 2:7 | Method of selection of the Compensation Committee; size of committee |
| § 2:8 | Other considerations in setting compensation |
| § 2:9 | Seniority; lockstep alternative |
| § 2:10 | Distinctions among classmates in early years of partnership |
| § 2:11 | Gender and diversity |
| § 2:12 | Practice area and office distinctions |
| § 2:13 | Different styles of Compensation Committee systems |
| § 2:14 | Emphasis on business generation |
| § 2:15 | Institutional strengths vs. star system |
| § 2:16 | Mergers and acquisitions |
| § 2:17 | Formula systems |
§ 2:18 Open systems vs. closed systems
§ 2:19 Efficiency and frequency of the process
§ 2:20 Bonus pools

CHAPTER 3. OBJECTIVES OF SETTING PARTNER COMPENSATION
§ 3:1 Introduction
§ 3:2 Peer review
§ 3:3 Reinforce practice leadership authority
§ 3:4 Reinforce trust in management
§ 3:5 Use of compensation for incentives, rewards
§ 3:6 Attempted use of compensation to substitute for management
§ 3:7 Scorecard for individual achievement
§ 3:8 Reinforcing the values of the firm
§ 3:9 Reducing the cost of annual compensation review
§ 3:10 Addressing a problem or grievance
§ 3:11 Conclusion

CHAPTER 4. USE OF STATISTICS AND “OBJECTIVE” INFORMATION TO MEASURE PARTNER CONTRIBUTIONS
§ 4:1 Introduction
§ 4:2 Validity of statistics
§ 4:3 Importance of tracking the operating results of the firm and its professional departments, offices and partners
§ 4:4 Business origination
§ 4:5 Productivity
§ 4:6 Hours worked on internal firm tasks
§ 4:7 Client relationship management; administrative time; total expected hours
§ 4:8 Measuring business development efforts and results
§ 4:9 Practice area statistics; firm statistics
§ 4:10 Offices
§ 4:11 Too much information?
§ 4:12 Lack of correlation between statistics and compensation

CHAPTER 5. SPECIAL SITUATIONS
§ 5:1 Introduction
§ 5:2 Lateral partners
§ 5:3 New offices
CHAPTER 6. A COMPENSATION SYSTEM IN ACTION
§ 6:1 Introduction
§ 6:2 Pragmatism
§ 6:3 Respect the existing compensation allocation
§ 6:4 Projecting the operating budget for the coming year
§ 6:5 Understanding the value of “points” and the effect of dilution by issuing more points
§ 6:6 Consider the whole partnership
§ 6:7 Candid feedback
§ 6:8 Investment opportunities

CHAPTER 7. CASH DISTRIBUTIONS
§ 7:1 Cash flow of individual partners
§ 7:2 Partner cash distribution patterns
§ 7:3 Partner capital
§ 7:4 Cultural implications of capital
§ 7:5 Contributions to retirement plans

CHAPTER 8. THE CHRONOLOGY OF COMPENSATION SEASON
§ 8:1 Introduction
§ 8:2 Information gathering
§ 8:3 Partners’ input on their own records
§ 8:4 Projecting the budgeted profits to be divided
§ 8:5 Compiling statistics for use by the Committee
§ 8:6 Input of the Department Chairs
§ 8:7 Compensation Committee meetings
§ 8:8 Explaining the decisions to each partner and to all partners
§ 8:9 Opportunity to comment
§ 8:10 Finalizing and approving the compensation schedule
§ 8:11 The compensation off-season

CHAPTER 9. COMPENSATING NON-PARTNERS
§ 9:1 Associate compensation
§ 9:2 —Administering lockstep associate compensation
§ 9:3 —Bonus systems
§ 9:4 —Variable compensation and advancement paths
§ 9:5 —Establishing a meaningful evaluation system
§ 9:6 Counsel compensation
§ 9:7 Senior (or special) counsel
§ 9:8 Non-equity partners
§ 9:9 Non-partnership track lawyers
§ 9:10 Compensation trends

CHAPTER 10. COMPENSATING STAFF
§ 10:1 Senior administrative leaders
§ 10:2 Middle managers
§ 10:3 Law firm staff
§ 10:4 Paralegals

CHAPTER 11. COMPENSATION AND FIRM CULTURE
§ 11:1 Introduction
§ 11:2 Philosophy
§ 11:3 Balancing the value of different contributions
§ 11:4 Positive cultural elements
§ 11:5 Variable life styles
§ 11:6 Absence of equity
§ 11:7 Are law firm partners adequately compensated?

APPENDICES
Appendix A. Compensation Case Study
Appendix B. The Smith System Formula
Appendix C. Compensation Worksheet