Highlights to the 2019 Edition

The 2019 edition of Designing an Effective Environmental Compliance Program been revised and updated to reflect the current state of environmental laws, regulations, and cases, including:

- Explanation of new policies from the U.S. Department of Justice on prosecuting corporate defendants.
- New requirements for pharmaceutical waste disposed by health care providers, retailers, and distributors.
- Updates on recent changes and the status of court challenges to Waters of the United States and wetlands regulations, including a state-by-state list of where the Obama-era rules are in effect and where they have been stayed by courts.
- Discussion of reduced risk of liability for deaths of migratory birds at oilfield operations, power generating stations and distribution networks, and other facilities.
- Recent changes on when to report air releases from animal feeding operations under CERCLA and EPCRA.
- Changes to California Prop 65 warnings effective in 2018.