CAMPUS RESEARCH: THE NEXT EVOLUTION

Campus Research® on Westlaw® is the premier research service for the news, business, and law-related information that's specially designed for the needs of librarians and students.

Scholarly research demands full-text information, and that's what Campus Research delivers. With Campus Research, students have both broad and deep information resources that they need for high-quality term papers, dissertations, and other course assignments.

Campus Research on Westlaw offers:

- An easy-to-use interface and clean, intuitive design
- Improved searches with the world's most advanced legal search engine
- Global search box so users just enter in keywords
- Ability to sort and filter results to quickly find the most relevant information
- Prompt expert support – technical and research professionals are always available

FOR LIBRARIANS

Campus Research is easy for students to use, so librarians have fewer technical questions to answer and more time to work with students on a full range of learning opportunities.

- Campus Research is intuitive and self-explanatory
- Includes easy-to-find online search tips
- 24/7 access and no passwords required
- Expert technical and customer support ensures prompt assistance
- Low, flat-rate pricing based on the number of full-time equivalent students (FTEs), so librarians can easily budget for resources with no unexpected charges

FOR STUDENTS

Every student needs access to solid news, business, and law-related information to successfully complete their work.

Campus Research combines breadth of news and business information with superior depth in law-related information to provide a complete, 360-degree view of any issue.

- Current and archival coverage of newspapers, magazines, broadcast transcripts, wires, and trade journals, with sources like USA Today, Le Monde, Haaretz, Associated Press, and CNN – at no extra charge
- Access to Company Investigator, an authoritative source for researching and gaining insight on more than 30 million public and private companies
- Topical categories to refine searches and obtain more precise results
- Expert analysis from hundreds of law reviews and journals, encyclopedias, and treatises or read full-text legislation, regulations, and court decisions
- Simultaneous usage, so there's no waiting for access
- Global search box simplifies and speeds up searching
- Easy-to-use integrated research tools, such as template searching, headnotes, case synopses, West Key Number System®, KeyCite®, and hypertext linking to related documents, help students focus topics and quickly find what they're looking for
- 24/7 access through your website anywhere without using a password
- As intuitive to use as any Internet search engine

CONVENIENT REMOTE ACCESS

Students can access Campus Research 24 hours a day, seven days a week, through their college or university website. No individual student passwords are needed, and with simultaneous usage, students don't have to wait for access.

EXPERT ONGOING SUPPORT

Whenever you have questions or need customer or technical support, you can count on our technical and research professionals for prompt assistance.

LAW-RELATED CONTENT

Research in nearly every academic discipline – business, marketing, accounting, criminal justice, health, social sciences, history, political science, and more – intersects with law. So all students benefit from the comprehensive primary and analytical law-related sources readily available on Campus Research.

Because law-related research may be daunting and complex, Campus Research provides an array of interconnected primary and analytical law content to help students get a more complete understanding of the issue they're studying. A global search box, as well as template searching, make it easy for students to find what they need.

ANALYTICAL SOURCES:

American Jurisprudence, 2d (Am Jur® 2d): A Campus Research exclusive, Am Jur is an encyclopedia that includes analysis of cases, statutes, and regulations from all 50 states and federal courts. It also includes analysis of the spirit and intent of the courts in construing the law, and the legislature's intent in enacting and amending the law. Arranged in more than 400 topics, it's an ideal way to get a quick and thorough understanding of unfamiliar law.

American Law Reports (ALR®): ALR is a continually updated series of articles that collects and analyzes every court case decided on a particular point of law. ALR is written in a narrative style and covers all sides of an issue.

More than 800 law reviews and journals: Includes top titles like Harvard Law Review; American Journal of Legal History; The Journal of Law, Medicine & Ethics; Stanford Law Review; The University of Chicago Law Review; and The Yale Law Journal for background and the latest developments on any law-related topic.

PRIMARY LAW SOURCES:

United States Code Annotated® (USCA®): USCA combines the official text of the U.S. Code with relevant cases, historical notes, indexes, cross-references, and other annotations to provide a solid framework for researching federal law.

All federal and state cases, including Supreme Court cases: Easily accessible through the National Reporter System®, an exclusive system of reporting federal and state cases that's editorially enhanced for complete research.

Code of Federal Regulations (CFR): The full body of federal administrative regulations. Features over 38,250 references to USCA, with hypertext links to the corresponding statute. Automatically incorporates weekly updates from the Government Printing Office.

- Students use analytical materials more than primary law. That's why, in addition to primary law, Campus Research includes an unmatched collection of law-related analytical sources – including more law reviews and journals than other online research services

Federal Register: 50,000 pages of current regulatory, administrative, and executive materials generated by key federal entities. Also includes proposed or promulgated amendments to any CFR section mentioned in the Federal Register database. Updated daily.

European Union Law: Search laws and regulations by topic, by date, and via full text.
